Operations: As a Numbered Air Force, we are the largest single provider of active duty AF combat fighters in the United States and combat search and rescue aircraft in the entire Air Force. We are the only Numbered Air Force focused solely on organizing, training and equipping as our primary mission. The headquarters assumed the stateside mission of USAFCENT, along with control of its assigned CONUS wings and direct Reporting units. Ninth Air Force is responsible for the oversight, readiness, training, and combat preparedness of its assigned units and personnel. The emblem of Ninth Air Force is separate and distinct from the historic emblem retained by USAFCENT. The two headquarters are separate, with no organizational relationship.
